As her trades moving closer to her multi targets. You can see how DTGD lot size slowly decreasing 😊 Not worth it to go crazy with layers like most novice traders would do. DTGD is a position trader. She sticks to one trade not different trades as other traders and hold them for months. Not advisable for new traders to follow bcoz DTGD is in a different advance chapter level.

Don't compare the understanding u have with someone who already have mastered the game and probably already bored with it 😊

Panic plays no part in the training of a trader. This is the exact period where most traders gonna make silly mistakes with taking immature trades instead of trusting the process, let the market do their part. Me of course, holding this trade for a reason. Been moving my stops here n there, guessing there won't be any extra trade this week. Just managing them in peace because I've learned to trust the process. What about you? 😊
